

Your room system, unlocked

GoToMeeting now supports video conference room systems.

You've got the hardware. We've got the connection. Bridge distance and device with InRoom Link and unleash the power of your conference room and connect reliably and powerfully – all from your existing H.323-supported hardware. So, whether your company is new to video conference room system technology or wants to increase the investment on existing equipment, GoToMeeting has what you need to connect with colleagues and clients.

How it works:

InRoom Link for GoToMeeting integrates with H.323-supported video conferencing systems. Join as an attendee, and your device will use its own camera and mic to share and receive video. This release adds to powerful, professional GoToMeeting features like Active Directory integration and Enterprise Sign-In. Together, these features allow teams to seamlessly enjoy GoToMeeting across the entire organization with minimal hassle for both IT and employees.

What devices are supported?

- Polycom Group Series (300, 500, 700)
- Polycom HDX Series (7000, 8000, 9000)
- Lifesize Express 220
- Lifesize Icon Series (400)
- Cisco SX20

What's H.323?

The H.323 standard is a technology for transmitting real-time audio, video and data over a network. InRoom Link is like a “handshake” that provides a bridge between the room system and GoToMeeting session, connecting everyone to the same meeting. You simply make a video call on your H.323-supported device, entering the meeting information included in the GoToMeeting invitation and InRoom Link connects you to the meeting. It's the simple, seamless way to bring everyone together.
