

Collaborate instantly with your entire team.

See who's online, send a chat or start a meeting with business messaging.

Your workday just got a whole lot easier

Business messaging with GoToMeeting helps you stay connected and be productive before, during and after your meetings. Need a quick answer? Send a chat. Hosting a team meeting? Start a GoToMeeting session in just a click. It's a faster, frictionless way to work together from anywhere.

Built to meet the changing needs of the modern workforce, business messaging is an always-on GoToMeeting experience, available for web, desktop and mobile. At a glance, you can see who's available and strike up a conversation. You'll save time, move faster and improve productivity – all in one place.

The messaging movement

At home, messaging apps have become the king of communication. They've changed the way many people interact – and the same is taking place at work.

Because of this ever-changing work environment, teams today need to be more flexible and effective than ever before. They're looking for instant, easy collaboration, and that's exactly what business messaging with GoToMeeting can provide.

Simple yet powerful collaboration

- Individual and group chat: Easily chat one on one or with an entire group when you need to connect fast.
- External collaboration: Let any customer, prospect or partner to join the conversation with a simple email invite.
- Instant online meetings: Jump into a full GoToMeeting session to take advantage of screen sharing, audio and video.
- Presence: See who's available, in a meeting, away or offline.
- Notifications: Keep team members in the loop. Notify people in your group of conversations with @mentions.
- File sharing: Share files quickly and easily with your contacts while chatting.

Connect on the fly

Save more time

Finish tasks faster

Want to check it out?

As a GoToMeeting administrator, turn on the Instant Messaging feature in the Admin Center to get access to this great new feature.