

Out-of-the-box video conferencing

Take the complicated out of conference rooms with GoToConference.

It's never been simpler to set up meeting rooms. Out of the box, GoToConference has the hardware and software you need for hassle-free video conferencing. Instead of researching and comparing expensive teleconferencing devices, you can get our recommendations in a bundle built to save you time, money and headaches.

Perfect for meeting rooms

Increasingly popular on office floorplans, small meeting rooms and huddle spaces make collaboration quick and easy. Since nearly 75% of business meetings have less than four people, going small makes sense. Add in the flexibility of multiple rooms, and there's rarely a need to book ahead – so people don't have to waste time hunting for meeting space.

These rooms are also great for helping remote workers feel included. The small, intimate nature of the space, coupled with a large-screen TV and GoToConference, can turn audio calls into a genuine face-to-face experience. And it's available for a fraction of the cost of typical video conferencing setups, which on average can set you back thousands per room.

Easy to set up. Easier to use.

GoToConference is a great fit for meeting rooms and huddle spaces of up to 10 people. The devices work together seamlessly, so an IT or AV tech can turn any meeting room into a video conferencing hub in minutes. It takes the complicated out of conference rooms.

Using GoToConference is a cinch. Anyone can walk in and start a meeting on the fly – just click Start or enter a meeting ID to begin. Invite others to kick off the collaboration.

And with TeamShare, GoToConference can also help people collaborate in person. Using a simple URL, they can quickly share whatever they want wirelessly on the room's display – perfect for those ad hoc meetings.

That's it – no more messing with cords, fumbling through instructions or waiting for AV help.

What does the kit include?

- Revolabs FLX™ UC 500 conference phone
- Logitech C930e 1080p HD webcam
- ASUS Chromebox computer
- Logitech wireless keyboard & touchpad
- GoToConference subscription

Order your own

Ready to roll out simple, clear video conferencing in your meeting rooms? Contact your account representative or call us at 1 888 646 0014 to get started.

Incredibly simple setup

Cost-effective equipment

Frictionless meetings